Occupational wellness is about the happiness and fulfillment that you get from your work. Tips for optimal occupational wellness are:

- Setting career goals that reflect your personal values
- Finding work that you enjoy
- Looking for opportunities to learn and grow in your work

Explore the Occupational Dimension by...

- Making friends at work
- Participating in work-related social activities
- Finding work that is meaningful to you
- Setting career goals