Continuing Education Mission
The mission of Northern Michigan University's Continuing Education and Sponsored Programs is to help individuals and businesses across the Upper Peninsula and beyond achieve their educational goals and objectives.

Extension Programs and Offices
Northern Michigan University offers several undergraduate and graduate credit programs for persons who are unable to attend regular classes on the Marquette campus. Courses are offered at several locations throughout the Upper Peninsula. Currently, Northern Michigan University maintains the following extension centers: NMU @ Escanaba at the University Center on the campus of Bay de Noc Community College in Escanaba, and NMU @ Dickinson/Iron and NMU @ Gogebic in the Iron Mountain/Kingsford area.

The following regulations apply to work taken in extension classes:

1. Matriculation (admission and enrollment): Persons who enroll in extension classes must meet the university’s admission requirements and enroll at the university in order to receive credit toward certificates or degrees. Students not pursuing a degree may enroll as non-degree seeking students.

2. Enrollment Status: Students who have been asked to withdraw from NMU for scholastic reasons may not be admitted to extension courses until they have completed university requirements for re-entry.

3. Registration: Students may enroll in any extension or weekend college course during the regular registration period. Students should register for classes prior to the first course session.

4. Late Registration: Students are required to complete all enrollments before the end of the second class meeting. Any exceptions require special permission from Continuing Education and Sponsored Programs office.

5. Minimum Class Size: The number of students required for an extension class depends upon the cost of supporting the class. If an insufficient number of students enroll, the course may be cancelled.

Off-Campus/Extension Per Credit Hour Tuition Rates are the same as those for fall and winter courses taken on the Marquette Campus.

Distance Education Program
Web-based courses are independent study courses coordinated through Continuing Education and Sponsored Programs for distance students. They carry the same amount of academic credit as courses taken in the classroom.

Students may register for Web-based courses during the regular registration period and must finish the course during the semester of course registration.

For additional information, including registration information, please contact Continuing Education and Sponsored Programs, or visit the Continuing Education Web page at www.nmu.edu/ce.

Summer College
Northern Michigan University offers a variety of undergraduate- and graduate-credit courses, professional development courses, workshops, seminars and noncredit programs in combinations of one, two, four, six and eight week sessions. Regular admissions and registration policies apply to Summer College students.

Summer College courses are scheduled in convenient morning, afternoon and evening blocks of time so that students can make up credits, stay on schedule for graduation, accelerate progress toward their degrees or try something new while leaving time for diverse work and leisure activities.

Weekend Courses
Class sessions for weekend courses are scheduled on Fridays, Saturdays or a combination of Fridays and Saturdays. Regular Northern Michigan University admission and registration policies apply.
